

OPENING OF OLYMPIC GAMES

IMPOSING CEREMONY AT LONDON STADIUM

King and Queen Present—Results in Running and Swimming Heats.

London, July 13.—When the city of London awoke this morning it seemed as though the English climate which was so kind to the sports held earlier in the year was trying to show the 2,000 athletes assembled here for the Olympic games how disagreeable it could be. The past fortnight of unsettled weather, which has been a terror to the visitors who have been trying to get in the best form for the great physical exertions to be made during the next two weeks, was followed this morning by a downpour of rain, which threatened to postpone the opening of the Stadium at Shepherd's Bush. Temporary shelters, however, were quickly erected to minimize the effect of the storm, and the inauguration of the Olympic games was carried out according to the programme.

Shortly after 3 p.m. as the royal coach commenced to fill up, the early arrivals, including the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess of Sweden and their children; the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Greece; the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and the Duke and Duchess of Albany.

Soon afterward the band of Grenadier Guards played the National Anthem, announcing the arrival of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, with their suites, who had been driven in state from Buckingham Palace. As the King entered the royal box a bugler gave a signal, the gates leading from the competitors' apartments flew open and the athletes marched out, headed by the banners of their respective nations. The procession was formed in alphabetical order, Austria leading with the exception of the five English-speaking races, which came last. This latter section was led by the United States team, the British colonies being directly behind the Americans, and at the end the United Kingdom as hosts.

As the procession came into the stadium each received applause, that for Americans and the colonies being particularly enthusiastic, as those who braved the elements to witness the opening games, included large contingents from across the sea. Later the downpour of rain gave way to a drizzle which, however, passed over and as the time approached for the opening, the sun came out occasionally and with the assistance of a light breeze brightened up the stadium decorations.

The athletes including the single representative from Turkey, having taken up their positions facing the royal box, the Americans in the centre, flanked by the Canadians and the Englishmen, Lord Desborough, marched up with members of the executive committee and said: "Will Your Majesty graciously declare the Olympic games opened."

In reply the King said: "I declare the Olympic games of London open."

At the completion of this ceremony cheering broke out from all parts of the Stadium. After the demonstration had died down the athletes gave three cheers for His Majesty, and then marched past the royal box. The men made a splendid appearance though unfortunately the weather prevented all of the competitors from coming out in their athletic costumes.

Dolaura in Turn Visited—

Yacht on Way to Quebec.

Hon. James Dunsmuir, who, with members of his family are on their way to Quebec by the Empress of Ireland, was the guest of the Emperor of Germany on board the latter's yacht during his visit to northern Europe. On board his yacht Dolaura, Hon. Mr. Dunsmuir and party left Hull for a cruise to Norway. The plans were somewhat altered from the original, and the yacht proceeded to Amsterdam, the River Elbe and then through the canal to Kiel, thence up the Baltic. The return was made by the North Sea to Southampton.

It was while at Kiel that the Lieut. Governor and his party met the Kaiser. The latter was at that port on board his own yacht, the Hohenzollern when the Dolaura entered. He at once sent an officer on board to enquire who the owner was. Hon. Mr. Dunsmuir was invited on board the Imperial yacht, where every courtesy was extended to him by the Kaiser. Afterward the Emperor returned to the Dolaura with Mr. Dunsmuir, and on board he manifested the deepest interest. He inspected every part of it from stern to stem, and expressed great satisfaction at the arrangements on board for the comfort of the owner and his guests.

The Dolaura left Southampton on July 5th for Quebec. Robin Dunsmuir is on board her, the remaining members of the family, who are accompanying the Lieut. Governor, coming by the Empress of Ireland. Mrs. Andrew, Mrs. Bromley and Miss Helen, who is taking a musical course, are remaining in the Old Land. During the tenebrionary celebration at Quebec the Lieut. Governor and party will make their home on board the Dolaura. Later, when they have for home, the yacht will be sent round by the Horn, reaching here about October 1st.

ONE ANTARCTIC,
OTHER ARCTIC BOUND

Peary and Shackleton Command Expeditions to Uttermost Ends of Earth.

New York, July 13.—When Commander Robert E. Peary boards his steamer Roosevelt at Sydney, C. B., this week and starts on his expedition in search of the North Pole, an international race to the uttermost ends of the earth will be on. Peary hopes to carry the stars and stripes to the North Pole, while a British Antarctic expedition, commanded by Lieut. Ernest Shackleton, is trying to place the Union Jack of the British Empire at 90 degrees south.

Lieut. Shackleton and party left London on July 30, 1907, on board the Nimrod, a steam barkentine. Lieut. Shackleton is an officer of the British navy and before leaving London, King Edward bestowed upon him the Victorian order. He was a member of the British Antarctic expedition of 1903-5, under Captain Scott and with his commander and another member of the party accomplished a sledge journey with dogs to a point, 82 degrees 17 minutes, south latitude. Peary reached a point, 87 degrees 5 minutes, north, April 12, 1906. Shackleton took with him a specially built motor sledge expedition and a number of Siberian ponies in addition to a pack of dogs. Peary was to use Eskimo dogs.

Before leaving London Lieut. Shackleton was presented by Queen Alexandra, with a British flag to carry on his southern dash. Grand Forks, July 13.—Saturday was pay day at the Granby smelter in Grand Forks. Cheques were issued to the employees, but owing to the fact that the Eastern Townships Bank's vaults had not sufficiently cooled to allow its being opened, payment by the bank will not be made until today. ## KOOTENAY BERRIES BEST ON MARKET

High Tribute to Excellence of Shipment Comes From Winnipeg.

Nelson, July 12.—The small fruit crop is about half over and so far the yield of the strawberry crop for this season is placed at $25,000, while the estimate of small fruits for the whole season is placed at twice that sum. Only a few years back the total yield was $5,000. These figures do not take into account the bigger fruit yet to come.

Advices from Winnipeg state that the Kootenay berry is the best berry on the market and in illustration of the situation in the berry market may be quoted the following telegram from G. Ford, the general manager of the Dominion Express Company, Winnipeg, which is handling the transportation of Kootenay berries to F. H. Smith, the local agent here.

Mr. Ford says: "Berries shipped in refrigerated cars have reached here in splendid condition, in regular working cars in soft condition. Berries netted to growers from $1.35 to $2.40 a crate average $1.90 a crate. Strongly recommend shipment of all berries by refrigerator cars."

AUTO SCORCHERS TO BE STOPPED BY BULLETS

Seattle Police Chief to Organize Motorcycle Squad to Give Chase.

Seattle, July 13.—If the present plan of Chief of Police Ward is carried out, speeding automobilists in Seattle will soon be chased by a squad of motorcycle patrolmen who will not only be equipped to run down the speeders, but will be in a position to take their evidence into court in a manner that will prevent a crafty defense from acquitting the accused persons.

The killing of the street cleaner on East Cherry street and the arrest of the two automobilists said to be responsible for the accident, has served to spur the police on to arrest speeding chauffeurs.

"My idea is to equip two experienced patrolmen with speedy motorcycles," said the chief yesterday. "They will have machines that will run at least fifty miles an hour, if necessary. The motorcycles will be equipped with speedometers. If the policeman in the saddle of the motorcycle believes an automobilist is exceeding the speed limit, he will have to ride alongside of him for a block or less than that. His own speedometer will show the speed. If the driver does not stop, the policeman is in a position to keep up with him."

"It will also be possible to a man on a motorcycle to shoot a hole in the tire of a speeding automobilist who refuses to stop. He will be able to get close enough to him to shoot the tire of holes without endangering the life of any one."

FOUR DIE ON BLAZING LAUNCH

SURVIVORS ARE TWELVE HOURS IN WATER

Explosion Brings Pleasure Party to Tragic End—Picked Up Exhausted.

Marion, Mass., July 13.—Four prominent summer residents of this town and Falmouth met death through an engine explosion on board a forty-seven-foot launch off here on Saturday night. Two survivors were picked up yesterday after having been in the water for twelve hours.

The dead: Roland Worthington, Boston; John T. Trull, Woburn; Joseph S. Beal, Milton, and George Savory, Marblehead, captain of the launch.

The saved: A. P. Tarbell, Marblehead, and Edward E. Pecker, Pecker, who was clinging to an oar, and Tarbell, who was supported by a life preserver, were able to swim and they remained together until picked up by a lobster fisherman going out. In the early morning to haul his pots. His boat was seen by the two struggling men in the water long before the fisherman could make them out. Finally he spied the nearly exhausted swimmers, and rescued them.

Neither of the survivors were able to give the cause of the explosion. Tarbell, who owned the Dolphin, as the boat was called, said that the boat started out from Marion on a short pleasure trip, and was well out in the middle of Buzzards bay when the explosion occurred.

Savory, the engineer, was suddenly blown into the air, and was probably dead when he struck the water. The boat caught fire immediately and Tarbell called to his comrades to leap to the oars and make for shore. He strapped a life preserver about himself before he leaped, and Mr. Pecker, who is connected with the Boston banking firm of Phillips & Pecker, was also followed. So far as they knew none of the others in the party jumped. Either they could not swim or preferred to cling to the disintegrating launch until help came, or else they were stunned by the explosion.

Both Tarbell and Pecker remained near the launch for several moments, urging their comrades to jump into the water with a cushion, ear, life preserver or something, for the launch was burning rapidly. One man, believed to be Roland Worthington, was seen clinging to the side of the boat.

Gradually the launch drifted further out to sea, and Mr. Pecker and Mr. Tarbell were forced to give up hope of aiding their comrades. They turned landward and swam slowly so as to husband their strength as much as possible. It was twelve hours before their rescue came.

GHOULISH CONDUCT OF CHICAGO CROWD

Hundreds Watch Woman Drown Without Raising Hand to Help Her.

Chicago, Ill., July 13.—While one hundred men and boys sat or stood within a comparatively few feet of her, and in sight of nearly 1,000 others, an unidentified woman fell off the north pier at the mouth of the Chicago river yesterday and was drowned. Although she screamed for assistance, not a hand was raised to assist her. Instead the gossamer stole the woman's hat and purse which she had placed on a pier beside her, and fled.

A half an hour later the body was taken from the water by men from the life-saving station. The body was neatly dressed.

FOREST FIRES IN MAINE.

Portland, Me., July 13.—With a series of dangerous forest fires scattered all along the Maine coast and raging also at various inland points, the situation last night was regarded as somewhat alarming. Thousands of acres of wild land have been burned over. The loss of timber in the Maine regions alone is estimated at over $100,000, and the fire in that district last night was still uncontrolled.

BEFORE HER HUSBAND'S EYES. Wife of Port Townsend Attorney Suing Severe Injuries in Runaway Accident.

(Special to the Times).
Port Townsend, July 12.—At the result of a runaway Mrs. A. W. Buddress, wife of a prominent local attorney, lies at the verge of death, while his little six-year-old daughter sustained severe injuries, both arms being broken and an ankle dislocated while driving at Chinacum, five miles from here, yesterday at 5 p.m. Buddress while visiting with his family at Chinacum, hitched up the horses for return and urged his family to occupy the Surrey while he was harnessing the horses. The horses suddenly whirled and ran away. The rig was upset before his eyes. The recovery of Mrs. Buddress is extremely doubtful.

BIG ORE STRIKE AT TASSO HARBOR

LARGEST BODY YET
LOCATED ON ISLANDS

Rush of Prospectors to Moody Mountain—Queen Charlotte Townsite.

(Special Correspondence).
Skidegate, July 8.—The new townsite of Queen Charlotte presents a busy appearance. The brush and timber is disappearing, tents and log cabins have sprung up and more pretentious buildings are under way. A large crew of men under the management of Chas. Moore are pushing the new saw-mill ahead and the new hotel owned by Mr. Lauder is nearing completion.

And the shores of Bearskin are echoing to the sound of the axe and hammer. The first newspaper printed on the islands, the Queen Charlotte News, has made its appearance and is bristling with local news.

The steamer Amur, on its last trip, landed a part of the machinery for the sawmill and the remainder will be brought in as rapidly as possible.

The finding of a large body of magnetic and chertiferous ore on Tasso harbor, west coast of Moresby Island, has caused a rush of prospectors to that vicinity and several new strikes are reported from there during the last two weeks. Several experts have visited the new strike on Moody mountain, Tasso harbor, and pronounce it the largest body of ore that has been found on the islands. The settlers in the vicinity of Lawn Hill are circulating a petition to the hon. commissioner of lands and works to prevent the whole area, including the lands for purchase in their district by prospectors, containing that it is cutting off the growth of the settlement and is detrimental to the general welfare of the islands.

Mr. Stevens is subdividing his land on the island of Skidegate, into ten and twenty acre lots to be put on the market. The Sand Spit is one of the most beautiful places on the islands and will make a grand summer resort. The duck and goose shooting at this place can not be excelled from September to March. The little lakes and ponds around the spit swarm with these birds.

CHINESE CREW MAKES DASH FOR LIBERTY

Two Drown When 40 Leap Overboard From Vessel in New York Harbor.

New York, July 13.—As the British steamer Strathgry was about to sail for Norfolk, Va., from her pier in Ellis basin on Saturday, twenty Chinamen, members of a crew of 40 Celestials who have been in a state of mutiny ever since the vessel docked here, made a concerted effort to leap overboard.

Ten of them were successful and before rescuers could go to their aid, two of them were drowned and a third will probably die. It was only after a hard fight that the police managed to save the rest. The Chinamen fought the bluecoats off, declaring they would rather drown than sail on the Strathgry.

The surviving Chinamen having been pulled from the water, all except the one who was nearly drowned, were taken on board the vessel and locked up. The others were sent to a hospital.

The mutineers were signed for an eleven months' voyage at Shanghai, but they wanted to leave the steamer, and demanded their pay. Capt. Dunn has refused to pay them, until the ship is back in Shanghai, and the crew are not satisfied. It was necessary for Capt. Dunn to get a new crew to-day to take the steamer to Norfolk.

Before the steamer sailed twenty-two of the mutineers were arrested and arraigned in the night court, but the magistrate ruled that the case was not in his jurisdiction. The prisoners were then locked up, and will be arraigned before the federal court.

WANDERINGS OF DALAI LAMA

LHASA IS POLLUTED
BY FEET OF INFIDELS

Mysterious Leader of Buddhists Leaves Holy City—An Unwelcome Guest.

(By Mail from Associated Press Correspondent).
Peking, Saturday, May 30.—In the spring of 1904 Sir Francis Edward Younghusband, of the British army, led a British column over the mountain passes of the Himalayas and fought his way into the Holy City of Lhasa. In the eyes of all true Buddhists this was desecration, and ever since then the Dalai Lama, the religious head of the Buddhist faith and ruler of Tibet, has been a wanderer over northern China. He would not stay in his city after the feet of infidels had trodden his sacred streets. Consequently, he is accompanied by a numerous retinue, he started on his wanderings through China and Mongolia, an expensive and unwelcome guest at the various cities where he elected to stop. Now the Lama is coming to Peking, where, as a matter of fact, he will be no more welcome than he was in other cities. Political expedient will, however, make it necessary for the Chinese authorities to receive him with a show of welcome, but they will do their utmost to persuade him to return to Lhasa and if they can once get him to start for home, they will send along a numerous force of troops to see that he reaches there without stopping unduly on the way.

The Lama has taken his travels seriously and has had with him a retinue variously estimated at from five hundred to a thousand men. The company is perhaps fitting for the head of all the Buddhists, but to entertain such a host in the luxurious manner they expect has been both expensive and troublesome for the Chinese officials, upon whom the Lama has descended and demanded hospitality in the name of his high office. Ever since the Dalai Lama has started on his travels the Chinese have tried to break up his caravan and send him back to Lhasa, but without success.

The Chinese government desires to re-organize the administration of Tibet but it can do nothing without the Lama's co-operation. The throne is now vacant owing to his absence. He is not doing so expert an easy time in getting him to do what it wishes. He has been seen by but few foreigners.

No Dalai Lama has ever before left Lhasa, and with one exception no Grand Lama of whom there are three, have ever visited Peking. This exception was in 1888 and the visit of the smallpox immediately after his arrival.

Dalai Lama is 32 years old and is the thirteenth ruler of the Buddhists. His personality is shrouded in mystery and not even his name is known. He is said to be obstinate and the throne does not expect an easy time in getting him to do what it wishes. He has been seen by but few foreigners.

DAMAGE BY FIERCE FIRE IN QUEBEC

Property Destroyed in Every Direction—Traffic on Intercolonial Suspended.

Montreal, July 13.—Heavy losses have been caused throughout the province of Quebec during the past two days by forest fires which have raged with fury unknown for many years, destroying property in every direction, wiping out small hamlets and doing untold damage to forests.

A feature of the fires is that they are spreading traffic on the Intercolonial railway for a period of 24 hours, all trains having to be sent around by the Grand Trunk, while some passenger trains were held up many hours waiting for a chance to get through the fire area, which extended a distance of over thirty miles from Carmic, Drummond county, to Daveluyville and spreading in every direction.

Lightbody, of the Chicago Athletic Association, and J. P. Sullivan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, were drawn in the first, and Melvin W. Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and J. F. Halstead, of the New York A. C., in the second heats respectively, and in fact there will be two Americans in most of the eight heats of the event to be run.

In the 400 meters (437.2 yards) swimming event, which is second on the programme, L. Budd Goodwin, New York A. C., was drawn in the first, Harry J. Hehner, Illinois Athletic Club, in the second, and C. M. Daniels, of the New York A. C., in the third heat. Only the winners in each heat and the fastest loser are to compete in the second round.

Ell and Van Dondria were drawn in the first heat of the 2,000 meters tandem bicycle event.

1,600 Metres (Running).

The first heat of the 1,600 meters run was won by J. P. Sullivan (Irish-American A. C.), J. D. Lightbody (Chicago A. C.) was second; Meadows, of Canada, was third. Sullivan's time was 4:07 3-5. Lightbody ran this event in the Olympic games at St. Louis in 1904 in 4:05 2-5.

The second heat was won by Melvin Sheppard (Irish-American A. C.), J. P. Halstead (New York A. C.) was second. Sheppard's time was 4:05 or 3-5 of a second inside the Olympic record, made by Lightbody at St. Louis in 1904. Butterfield, the former mile champion of England, was third in this heat.

The third heat was won by N. F. Hallows (United Kingdom), Lungthorn (California) was second, F. H. Riley, of the Irish-American A. C., did not finish. Time 4:03 2-5.

In the fifth heat Tait (Canada) won easily. Time 4:12 1-5.

The sixth heat was won easily by J. E. Deakin (United Kingdom). Time 4:13 2-5.

H. A. Wilson (United Kingdom) won the seventh heat in 4:11 2-5, and F. F. Crawford (United Kingdom) won the eighth heat in 4:09 1-5.

400 Meters (Swimming).

The first heat of the 400 meters swimming event was won by Batterbury (United Kingdom), L. A. Stores (Hungary) was second, and L. Budd Goodwin (New York A. C.) third. Time 5:48.

The second heat was won by Foster (United Kingdom). Time 5:44 4-5.

The third heat was won easily by Tartakover (Hungary).

The death occurred in the city Saturday of Marie Catherine Bendroff, eldest daughter of the late Capt. James Bendroff. Miss Bendroff, who was but 18 years of age, was very popular, and had endeared herself to a large circle of friends. The funeral took place this afternoon from the residence at 50 Quebec street. There was a later service held in St. James' church.

On the eve of leaving for a month's vacation, granted by the congregation of St. Paul's church, Victoria, West, at its last annual meeting, the Rev. D. and Mrs. MacRae at the manse were waited upon by a deputation representing the congregation and Young People's Society, consisting of the Rev. J. Fotheringham and Miss Kate McKensie, and presented with a well-filled purse towards the expenses of a holiday trip. The Rev. R. Wallace Collins will supply the pulpit of St. Paul's church during Mr. MacRae's absence.

STEEL PLANT IS NOW GUARANTEED NECESSARY CAPITAL IS PROVIDED FOR

J. T. Shadforth Says Stock Has Been Underwritten in New York.

"The capital for a steel plant on Vancouver Island has been secured, and in a week or ten days I will be in a position to announce the location of the works," is the announcement made this morning by J. T. Shadforth, the English ironmaster, who is interested in the enterprise.

According to Mr. Shadforth the capital is being secured in California, the state of Washington and in New York as well as a certain amount locally, the whole being underwritten in New York. The capital is, therefore, absolutely assured and the establishment of the works assured beyond peradventure. The New York underwriters, he said, were most enthusiastic over the venture and their ability to place the stock without the slightest bother. In connection with the financing of the scheme a representative of the underwriters will visit Victoria and the Pacific coast generally within the next week or so, when the scheme will be further advanced.

As to the exact location of the works Mr. Shadforth was non-committal, further than that it would be on Vancouver Island and that the blast furnaces would necessarily have to be close to coke ovens and these coke ovens would in their turn be close to coal mines. This was absolutely necessary to the economic working of the plant. Of course, it was also desirable that the works should be as close as possible to the ore, but this was not so important as having the coal, coke ovens and the blast furnaces close together.

THE GOLF CHAMPION

By "Bluemantle" in the London Mail.

Nothing could have been more appropriate than the victory of James Braid, of Walton Heath, in the open golf championship at Prestwick, for but a few weeks ago he produced the finest work on golf ever written, namely, "The Advanced Golfer," a book full of useful hints and advice and interesting personal details of the author's progress in the game in which he has won championship honors on four occasions.

The four times champion was born at Earlsferry, in Fifeshire, thirty-eight years ago, in the very heart of the greatest golfing country of the world, Earlsferry being hard by Elie and St. Andrews and Leven. Living in such a neighborhood, it is not surprising to learn that from his very childhood James Braid has always had a golf club in his hand, and gained his earliest hints by watching and copying the golfing giants of the country. At the early age of eight he won his first competition, defeating all his opponents in a junior caddie tournament by no fewer than twenty strokes.

Success as an Amateur.

On leaving school Braid was apprenticed to a joiner, but in spite of long working hours he found time in the summer evenings and on Saturday afternoons to play the royal and ancient game. Later he worked at St. Andrews and Edinburgh, showing wonderful promise as a member of the Edinburgh Thistle Club, and as an amateur he won the Braid Hills tournament in 1892.

Then followed a period in London, working as a clubmaker for the Army and Navy Stores, and during this time Braid made his first appearance as a professional at St. Andrews, where he tied for first prize in a special competition, the open championship, a successful appearance, too, considering that he was bracketed ninth in the list.

It was not until 1901, at Muirfield, that Braid first gained championship honors, after a steady struggle with Harry Vardon. At St. Andrews in 1902 and Sandwich in 1904 he was second to Herd and Jack White respectively. In 1905 at Sandwich and again at Muirfield in 1906 Braid secured championship honors, and now that "unkindly" Prestwick course has at last adapted itself to Braid's methods, where he has regained the title for the United Kingdom which Arnold Massey so brilliantly carried over to France last year.

The fact he has triumphed at Prestwick will be a source of special gratification to Braid, for speaking of this very course he says: "Prestwick does not seem to be a course, that is very kindly disposed towards me, or it may be that I have not very kindly disposed towards Prestwick. I must not be understood to be grumbling about the course, which is one of the very finest to be found anywhere. I have a great admiration for it, but there is just the coincidence that on the two occasions that I have played in the championship there I have been at very nearly my worst."

A Triumph of Perseverance.

It is, indeed, a triumph of cool perseverance—that the man soon after writing these words should have played such wonderful golf on a course of which he possessed an innate fear, since he has not only won the championship, but has broken all previous championship records. Only a golfer knows what a handicap it is to start an important match on a course that never seems to suit one's style. How much must this dread be intensified when one has to play four severe rounds against the very cream of the golfing world!

This, however, is one of the least astonishing features of James Braid's championship career. For he it is known that Braid is a "short driver" and "a really poor putter." It seems incredible that that long-stemmed Scottish giant, who hits his tee shot almost out of sight with mechanical regularity, can ever have been a "short driver." Braid's drives now-a-days belong to the wonders of the golfing world, yet he could get "no length at all" even after he had become a scratch player and had broken records, and yet he had driven 395 yards of late years.

Wonderful in the extreme is the story of his conversion from a short to a long driver. The main interest in this lies in the fact that Braid himself, who knows all that there is to be known about golf, has not the slightest idea of how it came about. To quote his own words, "I am not conscious that I made any difference whatever in my style or methods. . . . As I have often said, it was just the same as if I went to bed a short driver one night and got up a long driver in the morning. It was then, and is still, the greatest golfing mystery that I have ever come across."

Advice to Putter.

Braid's other great weakness, putting, the most match and championship-winning department of the game, was only put right by sheer hard work, determination and practice. Therefore, the champion's advice on putting is priceless, and it is summed up in these words: "The player must study everything that there is for him to study when he comes to putt, and he should train himself to the way of making an accurate calculation of the effect of different varying factors and how they balance each other; otherwise his attempts at reckoning will end in a frightful muddle, and his mind will be in a very unhappy state when he comes to make his effort." The champion favors aluminum and wooden putters rather than putting cloaks, and is firmly of the opinion that the balance rather than the shape of the putter is the important point.

Braid agrees with the saying that there are two kinds of golfers, "the born" and "the made." But by his own showing he is a mixture of the two. For he must have been a born golfer to have won competitions and established records in spite of short driving and poor putting, and now he is a "made" golfer by virtue of the fact that he has remedied his faulty putting by sheer hard work. Consequently, his advice is doubly valuable. "Steady does it" is the epitome of his advice to those struggling to overcome their faults.

"It is a very dogged, persistent sort of game," he says, and then adds the comforting words, "This is how I learned the game myself, and it seems to me that I had more troubles to encounter, and at one time it hardly looked that I should ever do much good in the golfing world." Yet here he is, open champion for the fourth time, after as "dour a struggle" with his faults as any Scottish golfer could desire.

Braid's quadruple triumph must indeed bring joyful hopes and encouragement to those still struggling to break down what seem hopeless barriers to their progress in the royal and ancient game.

BETTER TERMS AND A DIVORCE

PROPOSAL TO DIVIDE
PROVINCE OF B. C.

North Should Be Separate Territory—Amount Needed for Improvements.

I wish to present the claims of British Columbia to "better terms" in a manner entirely different from anything ever before suggested, and also utter a protest against any further extension of provincial boundaries, says a B. C. correspondent of the Toronto Globe.

British Columbia's claim for an additional grant is based entirely on the vast undeveloped domain included within its boundaries. If the province only included the settled portion, the claim for "better terms" would entirely disappear. British Columbia was a province and thrown on its own resources when it "should have been" a territory, and all its wants provided for out of the federal treasury. Population and industry are the sources of revenue. A country wholly undeveloped cannot provide the millions necessary to open and make fit for settlement a new province. A child cannot carry a man's burden. British Columbia has tried to do so, with the result that even in the southern portion sections within seventy-five miles of Vancouver city are without means of transportation, while the northern is little better than when Mackenzie crossed the Rocky Mountains. What has British Columbia done towards opening the Peace River district, of which it owns the most valuable portions? What has it done to open any of the vast domain through which the projected G. T. P. will travel? Practically nothing. Still this portion of the province is being thronged with settlers. They are working their way into the numerous rich valleys, over trails and across country, all depending on the provincial government to come to their assistance, and provide roads, schools, etc. Necessary as roads and schools are, the British Columbia government is not financially able to adequately supply the country's wants.

No Chance for the North.
The provincial revenue is almost entirely from the southern one-third of the province, and that one-third requires it all and considerably more to meet its own needs. The northern part of the province requires approximately $12,000,000 to adequately meet its wants. The provincial government cannot provide that amount, but the Dominion government can. Therefore I suggest that the province of British Columbia be divided. That portion south of the 52nd parallel of latitude constituting British Columbia, and that portion north of the said line to be formed into a territory, to be administered direct from Ottawa, the federal government guaranteeing to spend not less than $12,000,000 dollars during the next three years within the said territory. I need not dwell upon the advantages northern British Columbia would derive from such a change, suffice to say that in five years' time it would be prepared to take its place among the provinces of Canada, with an autonomous form of government.

How the South Would Profit.
Concerning the southern one-third of British Columbia, it would derive advantages almost equal to those enjoyed by northern British Columbia. It would be in a much better position to take care of its own numerous wants, also the great influx of population into northern British Columbia that would inevitably follow a liberal expenditure on public improvements, and would create vast trade for such wholesale and outlying points as Vancouver, Victoria, Kamloops and Ashcroft. But the greatest benefit would be lessening the size of the province, the legislature would be more in touch with the people as a whole, and consequently more representative.

As I understand it, provincial autonomy is designed to provide local government by local representatives, but when a province is created as large as an empire, including many localities having wants hostile to those of other parts, the government ceases to be local; thereby defeating the very object and principle for which provincial autonomy is intended. The smallest province in Canada is the most efficiently governed. Of the nine provinces, five are entirely too large, and their grievances, instead of being considered by representatives thoroughly in touch and sympathy with local conditions, come before a general assembly and are defeated or compromised, according to the desires or indifference of other localities.

Starving the Territories.

The wild territory the Dominion holds

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing.

As it did to Mrs. W. Barrett, of 602 Moreau St., Montreal, who writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse."

"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it made me strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, etc.

Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

In trust, to nurse, foster and develop. "It has population enough to become a province. How has this trust been kept? In Yukon territory government is doing its duty. But unfortunate Athabasca has been handed over to the tender mercies of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and will be starved and impoverished like northern British Columbia. Let any member of the House add together the millions spent by Canada in the Yukon and then himself the question: how far could British Columbia have gone in providing for this expenditure if the Yukon had formed a part of this province.

A Vain Delusion.
This inexplicable mania for increasing territory is a vain delusion. Has anybody ever advanced a sensible argument in its favor? The settled portion is burdened with increased obligations, and the unsettled or sparsely settled portion retarded by inefficient expenditure. The legislature's usefulness for domestic purposes is seriously decreased by the province becoming national in its size. Necessary local legislation that would receive immediate attention were the locality a province by itself is neglected, owing frequently entirely to indifference or jealousy of other sections that should never have been included within the same boundaries. Ontario and Quebec are the greatest offenders in this insane game of grab. If these provinces are not satisfied with present unwieldy portions, I would suggest that they unite and become one. Both provinces will no doubt, resent this suggestion, but this is the only kind of extension that the people of Canada should tolerate.

Where Revenue Equals Expenditure.
A settled and developed district is capable of producing revenue equal to its expenditure, and therefore does not add an additional burden to a province when included within its boundaries, but an unsettled district when included means expenditure on capital account, which must be borrowed or raised by increased taxation. If Manitoba is too small (which I deny, as I consider it is the most ideal province in the Dominion), it should have been given a portion of Saskatchewan and Assiniboia territories, and if Alberta territory was too small to become a province, it should have got the business of the said territories. The federal authorities divided the territory of Athabasca between the new provinces, knowing that they would not, in fact, could not, provide the same assistance that Athabasca would as a territory receive from the federal treasury.

Trouble Over Sliding Scale.
If each province was confined to the settled districts they would be on an equal basis, and the per capita rate would be fair to all. There would be no need for better terms, but the federal authorities, instead of maintaining equality, are intensifying the difference which means that in order to do justice to the large provinces a federal subsidy will have to be based on a sliding scale according to the size and population of each province. This sliding scale will be an endless source of contention and may lead to serious consequences. The discontent so abundantly evident in British Columbia must inevitably spread into the other provinces, and the federal government will be forced to make an additional grant based on area, or assume the cost of administering districts that are wholly or almost wholly unsettled.

PLANT THAT CURES CRAZE FOR OPIUM

Remarkable Discovery of a Tea Which Checks Drug Craving.

In the Kew Bulletin for 1907, reference was made to the discovery of a plant in Malaya, which was reputed to be valuable for the purpose of destroying the desire for opium. The plant has been identified by Mr. Carruthers as "Combretum sundacium." Mica, a native of the Malayan peninsula and the discoverer of the plant, is given by Mr. Way in the Journal of the Federated Malay States Museum, December, 1908, and is as follows:

"A party of Chinese wood-cutters working in the jungle near Seremban in Negri Sembilan, ran out of tea, and to supply its place took the leaves of a jungle climber, dried them, and made an infusion in the ordinary way. This, however, was not successful, as the beverage made the men ill with 'sakit perut' (i.e. bowel complaint). The leaves were then roasted and a fair substitute for tea was obtained, which had no ill effects. Then for some obscure reason, 'tengo,' opium dross, or the refuse opium after being smoked, was mixed with it, and the men continued drinking the mixture for a week or more in place of tea. After this time it was found that all desire of opium smoking had been lost. Friends of the men were told of the discovery, and so the news was spread and others were induced to try the remedy."

With regard to the further history of the plant and the spread of the knowledge of its properties, Mr. J. G. Alexander has furnished the current issue of the Kew Bulletin with the following particulars:

The young men of the Chinese Y. M. C. A., connected with the church of the Rev. W. E. Horley, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Kuala Lumpur, heard that in the village of Jeletu in the neighboring state of Negri Sembilan, a cure for the opium habit had been found, namely, a decoction of the leaves of a forest creeper (Combretum sundacium) which grows abundantly in the tropical jungle. They brought the matter before Mr. Horley as they purposed to devote their leisure to the distribution of the medicine if he would afford them the necessary help. He obtained help from the Anti-Opium Society of Selangor, who undertook to 500 Applicants Daily.

In a few weeks the news of the cure spread quickly and after some four weeks, 500 applicants daily were supplied.

An applicant brought with him two bottles, old brandy or whisky bottles, which were filled with the decoction, and into one of the two he placed, beginning the cure—his usual quantity of opium dross; this is not repeated, and he fills up the bottle containing it from the other bottle which contains none, so that gradually the proportion of opium is reduced to nil. If he came a second time no opium was used.

The somewhat crude method of preparation of the drug is given in detail by Mr. Way in the article to which reference has already been made. With regard to its chemical nature nothing has as yet been discovered either in the leaves or stems of the plant or in the decoction of the roasted drug which would account for its physiological value.

Medical men seem to be strongly inclined to the view that the plant has no real value and that it is the effect on the mind of the opium consumer which helps him to overcome the opium habit.

In favor of this latter view it appears that in Malaya many of those who were or appeared to be cured have relapsed into the habit, though on the other hand many are still holding their ground after more than a year.

In the Agricultural Bulletin of the Straits, Mr. Ridley states that at least three kinds of plants were included in the samples of the anti-opium plant received by him from different people, one of them being the "Combretum," so that until more definite evidence of the value of the anti-opium plant is forthcoming it seems advisable to reserve an open mind on the subject.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

The greatest athletic meet in the history of the world commences to-day in London. Representatives from all the nations of Europe, North America and Australia will take part. Our American friends say they are confident of capturing first honors in a majority of the events. We hope they may succeed, provided Great Britain and Greater Britain cannot beat them. In the meantime it is noteworthy that they are the only competitors who have protested the standing of any of the athletes. They object to the appearance within the lists of Thomas Longboat, the crack Canadian long distance runner. Yet it is quite certain that Longboat is just as pure an amateur as a considerable number of the men who will represent the United States in the Stadium. Our neighbors are specially strong as sprinters, jumpers and weight throwers. If they fall in these special features of the contests, they are likely to be overcome. The Canadians have some good entries for the short distances, and they may upset the calculations of their American neighbors. One of these, Kerr of Hamilton, Ont., has already won the championship of England in the short distances. The chances, therefore, are that Canada will gain some honors at the great Olympic meet. England has already won the championship at tennis, America taking first honors in rifle shooting, the latter victory due, it is said, principally to the superiority of the United States service rifle. Still, there is no question that Americans are the best marksmen in the world with either rifle or shotgun, and there is no disposition to cavil at the honors they have won.

TROUBLES OF STATESMEN.

The times are temporarily out of joint for Chancellors of Exchequers, Secretaries of Treasuries, Finance Ministers and others who direct the financial affairs of nations. Russia is trying to borrow hundreds of millions of dollars in order to meet discrepancies between revenues and expenditures. She needs the money to build a navy and to carry on great works of internal improvement. His Majesty of Germany aims at having the greatest navy in the world, but his financial advisers cannot see with precision where the money is going to come from. Mr. Lloyd George, although constitutionally an enthusiastic and optimistic, is troubled in mind respecting the programme of a progressive government. Great Britain is committed to an old age pension scheme which will involve the nation from present indications, very deeply. There is no prospect of retrenchment in any direction to meet this new and somewhat unexpected call upon Mr. George's special department, if it were proposed to cut down the charges upon the navy, the right arm of the nation, there would be a popular uprising which would bode ill for the government. Ominous tidings from India necessitates the army being kept up to the standard, if not augmented in strength. To add to the difficulties which surround the Chancellor, the advanced wing of his party insists that the old age pension scheme does not go far enough. It claims many who are rightfully entitled to pensions will be excluded under the narrow programme of the administration. Hence an urgent appeal has been issued to pass the bill and trust that the financial circumstances of the country will permit of an extension of its provisions in the future. But, whatever be the fate of the aged, Liberal and Conservative is committed to it. The hope is cherished that as a consequence of its enactment charges which have hitherto fallen upon local bodies will become lighter—that the ultimate effect will merely be a change in the "incidence of taxation," and that a way will be found of meeting the situation without piling impossible burdens upon the general taxpayer.

In the United States lately treasury deficits have been steadily increasing. As a consequence of trade depression the people have been buying less from abroad, and the customs receipts, from which the revenue is principally drawn, have undergone such a marked decline that in one week the nation went into debt to the tune of over five million dollars. The deficit at the end of the next financial year will prove enormous. And yet if Congress had followed the advice of President Roosevelt in regard to the increase of the navy and other extensive schemes the condition of the treasury would have been worse many times over than it is to-day.

Nor is money flowing in as freely as has been the case during the past few years into the strong box of Canada, which is in charge of Mr. Fielding. But in our case the decline was anticipated and provided for. The Canadian Finance Minister is a man of wide perception. He knew that in consequence of the pending depression there must be a temporary decline in the revenue. The prospect of the greatest harvest in the history of the country has had the effect of maintaining confidence, however, and there is a cheering prospect that before the end of the year the tide of trade and commerce will be running stronger than ever.

A REFORM DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN

There is a quiet but deep feeling throughout the country that law reform is necessary, but it is a reform which will be slow in coming, for reasons that are easily comprehended. The Toronto Star says: "The editor of the Canadian Magazine takes the pessimistic view that there can be no real law reform because the spirit or genius of law will always remain. Now this would seem to us to be the very reason why law reform ought to be easy. What we need is to release the spirit of the law from its present encumbrances which create the maze in which lawyers delight to lose their clients—and to charge a ransom to guide them out again. Law is a good, a necessary thing. But there is every reason why the law should be written in the language of the people. Yet our laws might as well, in many cases, be written in Latin, as be written in the involved manner now obtaining, and be further confused by the necessity of interpretation in accordance with previous judicial decisions.

"What the law needs chiefly is simplification. Procedure is in need of the same process of pruning. There ought to be a place where two people, who disagree as the meaning of a contract or a bargain or any other document, could go quietly by themselves, and get it interpreted without either of them having to go to the trouble or expense of engaging a lawyer; and the custom of this appearing for one's self should be so common that it would excite no remark. The laws which affect us in the ordinary walks of life ought to be easily got at and understood by the average citizen without the intervention of an expert. Nor should it be possible for a wealthy corporation to practically lift justice out of the reach of the poor sutor by a succession of appeals.

Mr. Sheppard has been nominated as the Conservative candidate for the federal constituency of Nanaimo. Yet if the Premier of the province had a vote in the district he would cast it for his local Comrade Hawthornthwaite. Furthermore, the Comrade's provincial seat will be kept open for him against the day of his sure defeat in the federal elections.

After a keen competition Scribner's magazine has secured President Roosevelt as a member of its staff of writers. The rate of remuneration will be two dollars per word, not one dollar, as was erroneously stated in the first instance. Inasmuch as the president is a voluminous writer, his new job ought to be quite as remunerative as the one he will relinquish next spring. That is, assuming that the man with the blue pencil holds the Big Stick in proper respect. Experienced feathered game hunters in this country seriously contend that cock pheasants know by intuition or instinct when the open season arrives and take to the woods. Doubtless the wild beasts of Africa are similarly endowed. When the information is conveyed to them by agencies which pass human understanding that Roosevelt is upon the big game path there will be a general retreat to the fastnesses of the Dark Continent. The mightiest hunter and politician of modern times will not get them except after much labor. There will be a great demand for the stories he tells in Scribner's.

The Ottawa Free Press says Conservatives who have been anticipating substantial defections from the Liberal ranks in Quebec at the next federal elections will not gain much comfort from the editorial opinion of La Patrie, which says: "We are convinced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier can wait the verdict with confidence." La Patrie was counted upon to oppose the government in the coming campaign. It was the property of the Hon. J. Israel Tarte, and is now conducted by his sons, who are supposed to sympathize with Mr. Bourassa.

The Vancouver Province says it is a dangerous thing for a public man to fall into the phrase-making habit. It probably has in mind the efforts of Premier McBride in that line. For example, "If you can't boost, don't knock," can scarcely be considered a classic, while "The thing is to get into power, and when you are in to stay in," is not by any means a terse expression of high political ideals.

It is only occasionally in this part of the world that we realize by experience what a really hot day means. Yet the fervent heat of a mid-summer sun hath other uses than ripening crops in season. While it kills a number of people in large cities of the East, it also makes the tongue of Hon. G. E. Foster weary and prevents Parliament from remaining in session continuously throughout the year.

We gather from what is taking place in the interior of the province that Premier McBride is still carrying on a federal election campaign at the expense of the provincial treasury. That is one way of trying to advance one's political and private fortunes.

Old Sol was in great form yesterday. If the verities of the old chap are really on the decline, he must have made things warm for the inhabitants of the earth in the days when he was in the full flush of his youth and strength.

Manitoba is to have an ocean port on Hudson Bay. It has not yet been announced that the prairie province will finance a condition of acceptance of the same that Churchill shall be made a "free port."

What Other People Think

DESTRUCTION OF TREES.

To the Editor:—In passing along Douglas street yesterday morning I took particular notice of that great poplar tree outside of Dr. Hart's residence. I myself, together with a number of my friends, have failed to see that it is in the way of pedestrian traffic. In fact it is absolutely in the way, and in this many others will agree with me.

What harm has the poor tree done? Nothing. It is good and healthy, it gives shade, and is an ornament to the city. I will admit that it has not got brains, but at least it draws sap from Nature and adorns its position. Can this possibly be said of one or any of the so-called guides or solons of our dear city? That tree was born before most of them, and if only left alone will still continue to grow and adorn the position which it now holds, which I am sure is more than can be said of most of the miserable crowd of make-believe improvers, who will be mauling in their graves for the possible fertilization of similar works of the Creator. This tree cannot be placed, nor can many others which have been most maliciously, wantonly and ruthlessly destroyed. The aldermen can possibly be replaced, and no doubt will be. I leave that to time. What is the use of making boulevards, which means planting new trees, if you are going to deliberately destroy those most beautiful specimens which we have ready at hand and which in very many years cannot be reproduced, especially as they, the existing trees, do not in most cases in the least interfere with traffic? And if it comes to a point making an absolutely straight line in the sidewalk, where is the beauty of it? Are not all the famous beauty spots in the old world famous partly, if not chiefly, on account of their great discrepancies? Let the future aldermen, if not in every way artists, have at least sufficient artistic instinct in their nature to preserve what God has given and what cannot be replaced, instead of wasting money in the new boulevards, which, desirable as they doubtless are, would in the event of the present system continue to exist, be destroyed, and then in the next generation. This is only the humble opinion of one who loves nature.

THE TAX RATE.

To the Editor:—In your issue of the 10th inst., under the caption "Fixed Tax Rate a Mistake," reporting the recent happenings at a meeting of the city council, you mention a discussion which arose concerning the taxation of improvements. A brief discussion of the arguments advanced pro and con may be of interest to your readers in view of the proposed referendum on the subject. Our worthy Mayor is stated to have been opposed to such a system, because the Street Railway Company and other public service corporations would benefit along with all the rest of the citizens. This argument irresistibly reminds one of the story of the man who cut his nose off to spite his face. The bulk of the citizens are not to be benefited because some corporations which have managed to monopolize the public utility service of the city would benefit alone. On reading your report of the proceedings, I am pained to have been a somewhat hazy idea respecting the single tax philosophy on the part of some of the speakers, and accordingly a brief resume of the cardinal features of the system of taxation proposed by Henry George will be a necessary prelude to an intelligent argument. Henry George asserted that since the value of land is dependent on the demand for it, and the demand for land is dependent on the number of people who want to use it, and since the number of people who want to use the land is dependent on the number of people present in any given place, therefore, the number of people present in any locality produces or creates the value of the land there. This is the same thing as saying that all the people who live in a house would have no value at all, except that based on an expectation that people would return here. Similarly if the population of Victoria doubled, the value of land would become more than double what it is now, owing to a speculative demand created by the expectation that more people would come here. Now, since land which a man or body of people creates or produces, they are by the law of equity or equal rights entitled to the sole use of, therefore the value of the land, or site value or ground value as distinguished from improvements, is equitably the common property of the people and is the only just source of taxation, namely, should be used for common purposes. These are land in the city of Victoria which, fifty years ago, was worth about five dollars per acre, which, without the owners having made any improvements on it, does anything whatsoever, to earn the increased increment or increase in value, is now worth $100 per lot. Is it just that the people who own this land should almost escape taxation, while the man who buys it and puts improvements on it, thereby increasing the wealth of the community, is fined for doing so? We say we want a beautiful city, and we fine everyone who does not make it beautiful. Is this a beautiful or intelligent human beings? Moreover, what is the reason for the high buildings that we see in New York and other great cities? Surely the high value of the land. Hence Alderman Henderson's remark appears singularly inapplicable, when he states that a tax on the value of land without any improvements would have such a result. "Desertion would obviously be to make land cheaper and encourage building." All honor to the aldermen who have brought forward into the limelight this much needed reform in our system of municipal taxation. The intelligent electors of Victoria should put themselves on the merits of this question in their own interests by reading Henry George's epoch making book "Progress and Poverty."

BODY IN A SACK.

Workmen's Grim Discovery in the Early Morning.

Two workmen who were passing through a Lyons street in the early hours of the morning noticed a large sack lying in the road. Opening it, they were horrified to find the doubled-up corpse of a woman. Police investigation showed there was no trace of wounds, but curious points were that the woman's hair had been cut off close to her head, and that though she was practically nude her clothing was in the sack beside her.

It was soon ascertained that the body was that of a young married woman, living close to the spot where the body was found. The house was visited, the husband being found in bed. When he was told of the tragedy he cried: "My wife dead? My wife murdered? Oh! that is impossible."

He gave very clear and precise answers to the questions put to him by the judicial authorities. He stated that he was employed at a local manufactory, and that on his return from his work at noon on the previous day he had missed his wife, and had been busy with his business for her.

Neighbors report that the couple were on very affectionate terms, so the husband has not been molested, and, indeed, is actively assisting the officials in their investigation.

All that the wife did on the fatal morning has been ascertained. At half-past eleven o'clock she returned from the market, whither she had gone to buy provisions for the day, but after that nothing was seen of her. If she was murdered at home this must have been during the interval preceding her husband's return from work, but it appears more likely that she went out again, dressed in her usual garb. It is thought that she may have been murdered by some of the vagabonds who abound in that district, and that the criminals were carrying the corpse in the sack to throw it into the Rhone when the approach of the workmen led them to drop it in the street and to run away.

PRINCIPLES OF SOUND BANKING.

Confidence in banks can be due, not to external forces, like insurance of any losses which may occur, but to internal forces directed upon the methods of business management, and the quality of the assets which serve as the security for the deposits. If the internal management is careful and judicious, the deposits are safe, and we can have confidence in their safety. Moreover, if a good bank gets no advantage from its sound business methods, its conservative loans, its skill in avoiding losses, and its experienced staff, why should it try to keep a superior standard? The insurance idea seems to be that we can have confidence in banks, if only some one will pay the losses. This is as much as to say, we are not afraid of fire, even if incendiaries are about, because we are insured; when, in truth, the only permanent confidence is due to measures which will eliminate the necessities. So, in banking, everything is secondary to the character of the assets in the loan item.

It cannot be insisted upon too strongly that the effort to create confidence and prevent panics by insurance of deposits is going to the wrong end of the problem. The deposits can never be any safer than the assets. Therefore, if we wish to create confidence and prevent panics, every effort should be directed to securing only the safest kind of assets. This is the crux of the whole matter. To talk only of insurance, and to minimize the importance of the quality of the assets, is only to act after the damage is done; to close the stable door after the horse is gone.

In the Mohammedan religion there are seven heavens, each a little finer than the other, the last culminating in the "supreme glory," being full of the "divine light" which is beyond the power of speech to describe.

Of course, the insurance advocate will say that insurance will bring about safer banking methods; but of that more later on.

The insurance theorists probably mean that their scheme would prevent a panic, because it would prevent a run on any bank in the system. One would be curious to know upon what analysis of credit operations a crisis could be regarded as due merely to the state of mind which leads to a run for cash. In truth a run, a lack of confidence, is a consequence, not a cause, of panic conditions. From "Guaranty of Bank Deposits," by M. Laurence Laughlin, in the July Scribner.

LAND FOR THE POOR.

Mr. Summerbell, M. P. in England, has had an interesting communication from a Canadian lady, signed Alicia Simpson. The lady, who has been attending the Pan-Anglican conference, was present the other day at the Albert hall when the Labor member for Sunderland made an eloquent defence of the Labor party. She writes: "I heard the impassioned speech you made—an appeal to us all to help the submerged part of our nation who have no sunshine in their lives. I have a tract of land in New Brunswick, Canada, very well situated. It is within two miles of a rising town, near St. John's river, and with two roads skirting it—about 450 acres—therefore, it is not all in the wilderness. It has lain fallow for fifty years. I only got possession last year. I wish to utilize it and would willingly give it (under certain restrictions) if it could be used for any benevolent purpose."

The writer adds that she only wishes to utilize the land for those poorer than herself, and asks Mr. Summerbell if he can find time to help her in the scheme. Mr. Summerbell is considering the matter.

LUNCHEON TO-MORROW.

Canadian Club Will Entertain Robert Mantel at Dinner.

Members of the Canadian Club are reminded that the sale of tickets for to-morrow's luncheon at the Grand hotel, at which Robert Mantel will be the guest of honor, will close at 8 o'clock this evening.

Members desiring to attend must apply at Hibben & Co.'s before then or they will be unable to secure admission. On the occasion of the last luncheon a large number did not purchase tickets until just before the doors opened with the result that the catering arrangements were upset.

For the lunch Harry Hemming, the new proprietor of the Grand, announces that he will prepare for one hundred and fifty guests. Although he has no contract to supply that number, at previous Canadian Club luncheons there have always been difficulties with the caterer who has never known till the final moment the number that he has to prepare for and confusion and complaint has sometimes followed. Mr. Hemming has promised to prepare for one hundred and fifty without any guarantee whatever and for this occasion has consented. The Canadian Club, however, wish that every member who intends to be present will purchase his ticket by to-night so that the caterer may be able to form some idea of the number who will be there and thus be able to arrange his service that the guests will not be kept waiting.

ISLANDS ARE BOOMING

D. R. Young of The News Tells of Great Progress There.

D. R. Young, manager and editor of the Queen Charlotte News, arrived in the city by the Amur after getting out the first edition of the paper printed at its permanent home at Queen Charlotte.

The paper, a creditable one, and was printed within two weeks after the manager arrived on the spot. An office had to be built in that time, which shows that D. R. has lost none of his characteristics as a hustler.

Business is booming, he says, on the islands. Col. Topping, of this city, has just landed a most promising mine next to the Swede group.

The first floor of the big sawmill at Queen Charlotte, 50x135 feet, is finished, and the second floor will be completed by the end of the week, when the machinery for a 100,000-foot mill will be installed, says Mr. Young. Men are busy at work completing the dam and laying an 8 inch water main to the townsite. Contracts are let for the clearing of 100 acres of the townsite, in addition to those already let. The Queen Charlotte hotel, a three-story frame building, is well under way with two carloads of furniture on the ground ready for the opening day. Stores of all kinds are being arranged for as soon as lumber is available. The harbor is lined with boats of all kinds, while tents can be seen everywhere, in fact it can well be called a city of tents, men, women, children and canary birds as tenants.

As an evidence of the good weather, the employees of the lumber company working on the sawmill lost only half a day in eight weeks. Subscriptions have been given for a church which will be built at once, and the townsite company has given a site for a hospital. The Moresby Island Lumber Company has given the lumber for the hospital, and the government will be asked to send a doctor and nurse as soon as ready. Mr. Young says that the lumber company will require a number of men at once.

He expects to be here for about a fortnight.

—Notice, Esquimalt school district—The adjourned annual meeting of the ratepayers of the district will be held at the school house, Lamson street, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, the 17th inst. Full attendance requested.

—In bringing a loaded car of passengers home from the baseball game on Saturday afternoon, the vigilance of the motorman prevented what might have been a serious accident. A heavily loaded transfer truck in crossing the track a short distance in front of the approaching car halted temporarily for some unknown reason upon the track, by which time the swiftly moving car was within 15 feet of it, and only the quick and hard application of brakes prevented a collision.

Nothing more serious than a slight jolt to the passengers who were thrown forward a few feet in the car, was the result.

—A successful meeting was held in Beacon Hill park under the trees yesterday afternoon by the Men's Own Bible class of the Congregational church. Mr. Jones, who is a great traveller, gave some of his incidents of crossing the Red sea. It would be wise if other classes were to meet in the open air during the hot weather.

YESTERDAY IN CHURCH CIRCLES

FEATURES THAT WERE OUT OF THE USUAL

Flower Sunday at Cathedral—Orangemen Parade—Present to Rev. H. Carson.

Yesterday was flower day at Christ Church cathedral, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the whole Sunday school was filled with young people carrying bouquets of roses, carnations, pansies, asters and a host of other beautiful garden flowers which were plucked and gathered by tender and loving little hands to be sent to the city hospital to cheer and comfort the sick.

Very pretty it was to see the little folks, and the bigger Sunday school scholars too, march up the aisle, and send the chancel steps and deposit their precious burdens of sweet-smelling flowers upon the great altar, where they were arranged in huge piles and pyramids filling the whole church with their fragrance. Canon Beauland conducted the service. He spoke to the assembled children of the gift of their gift and of its special appropriateness in being sent to the sick and the weary, and complimented them on the fine selection of flowers they had made. The flowers were distributed among the different hospitals by the officers of the church.

The local Orange lodges celebrated the 12th July yesterday by attending divine service at the Metropolitan Methodist church. The Sons of England, Daughters of England and Loyal True Blues accompanied the Orangemen, and the procession, which left the A. O. U. W. hall promptly at 10.30, headed by the pipe's band, was a most imposing one. The procession proceeded down Yates to Fort Street, thence to Pacific and up to the Metropolitan church.

The members of the lodges attending completely filled the central part of the church. Rev. A. E. Roberts, pastor of Victoria West Methodist church, preached an appropriate sermon, emphasizing the principles of the Orange Order and telling briefly the history and growth of Orangemen. Rev. Dr. Reid, honorary grand chaplain of British Columbia, occupied a seat on the platform and took part in the service.

At the conclusion of the service the parade reformed and returned to the hall, where a short meeting was held, during which votes of thanks were passed to those who had so kindly assisted in making the annual church parade a success.

Among the most popular clergymen in the city is Rev. H. Carson, of the First Congregational church. Mr. Carson took farewell yesterday of his congregation for a few weeks. He will leave on Wednesday for the East to visit his old home near Quebec and embrace the opportunity of taking in the Tercentenary celebration at the same time.

On the conclusion of the service last evening he was surprised to be waited upon and presented with a good purse the present coming from the congregation. The presentation was made on behalf of the deacons and congregation represented by A. Howell, the senior deacon, and on behalf of the Men's Own Bible class by C. Lancelley, the president of that organization.

Church Gymnasium.

Rev. T. E. Hocking of the Metropolitan Methodist church last evening initiated what will doubtless be a very popular move, namely, the holding of services limited to one hour only. The sermon last evening was kept brief, limiting the whole time occupied to one hour. He preached on the "Gymnasium of Life." In the course of his address he laid stress on the importance of athletics. He believed there would be far fewer wrecks in human life if more attention were given to the athletic side of man's nature. He believed in fact that every person should have a well-equipped gymnasium. He also alluded to the danger of giving too much attention to the athletic side, pointing out that that should not displace the taste for literature and for the moral side of the nature. There should be a well balanced manhood developed in all these departments.

Open Air Meeting.

A successful meeting was held in Beacon Hill park under the trees yesterday afternoon by the Men's Own Bible class of the Congregational church. Mr. Jones, who is a great traveller, gave some of his incidents of crossing the Red sea. It would be wise if other classes were to meet in the open air during the hot weather.

Mission Meeting.

At the W. C. T. U. last evening a bright service was conducted by C. Eastland, a young man from the Oxford district. His subject was "The Sinner's Prayer." He preached from the text: "Thou almost persuaded me to be a Christian." It was listened to by a good number of men and the message will be remembered for a long time by those who were there.

WONDERS WON ANOTHER MATCH

BELLINGHAM PROVED
EASY PREY TO THEM

The Match Was Not Marked
by Star Paly-
ing.

In a listless go-as-please kind of game, in keeping with the heat of the day, the Wonders on Saturday scored another victory, when they beat the Bellingham team 5-1. If there had been occasion they could have done worse things to the Bellinghamites, but they contented themselves with winning the game in the first innings and taking things easy for the remainder of the game. This suited the majority of the crowd, although the real live fans, those who know baseball when they see it and want to see it every time they watch a game, were inclined to get sore in spots and to demand that the teams "play ball." Surplice pitched for the Wonders, and the things he did to the visitors were awful. He struck out no less than 13 out of the 23 men who came to bat, while only four hits were secured off him. His principal work was done in the second and third innings. With two men on bases in the second and no one out he went to it and struck out the next three men up, while the first two up in the next went the same way, following which he gave a man a base on balls and then retired the side by forcing another man to fan.

Walter Lorimer again officiated in the dual position of ball and base umpire, and did so with success. He made one or two mistakes, but on the principle that to err is human and to forgive divine, the players and the spectators passed them over without the usual in such cases.

The men from Bellingham made nothing in their first innings, only three men coming to bat, all of whom connected with the ball, which, however, got to first before the runner in each case.

pitcher and catcher until the umpire called him out. Plummer followed and started things doing by scoring a safe hit on a bunt. He stole second while Wattlet was waiting for a base on balls, something that he received in due time. Plummer made third on a pass ball and Wattlet made second without loss of time. Russ followed and struck an ugly one to shortstop, who missed it. This put the Bellinghamites up in the air. Hurley, the shortstop, after fielding the ball sent it home away too late to stop Plummer. Hanson, the catcher, threw to second base to catch Russ, but Brown failed to land the sphere, and Wattlet scored. In the meantime Russ was hiking for third as fast as two legs would carry him. The second baseman saw his duty, but failed to do it. He threw to second base, but it was many feet too high, and Russ scored. Keene caught Robertson's pop and Northcott struck out, thus ending the agony of the visitors.

Things looked bad for the Wonders for a couple of minutes in the second. Lorimer made an error in giving Brown first base after he had struck out. Tait made a single on which Brown moved up to second. Each advanced another bag and died there, for Surplice struck out the next three men in dead easy style, and the day was saved.

Plummer added to his batting average in the third to the extent of a single bagger and finally scored. Wattlet followed Plummer at bat, but went out on a foul fly which was landed by the catcher. Russ was given a base on balls and Robertson, who followed him, struck a pretty drive to right field, which Brown negotiated, although Plummer scored on the play. Russ scored his way to third, and attempted to steal home while Northcott was at the bat. Just as Russ was nearing the home plate, Northcott connected with the ball, which, however, landed at first ahead of him, and he was called out and Russ' run did not count.

The Bellinghamites liked Russ' illustration of a squeeze play so well that they tried it themselves in the next innings, but without result. Brown had made a safe, had stolen second, made third on a wild throw, and came home on a passed ball. Tait, who had been given a base on balls, had stolen second and made third on the passed ball which scored Brown. Surplice then put on his working clothes and struck out the next two men. It was while the next man was at bat that Tait tried a squeeze play. It was a clumsy attempt, however, and he was nailed by Robertson without an effort.

In the fifth occurred an incident that made the spectators sore for a minute or so until they realized what the meaning of it was. Hurley, shortstop for the visitors, had been hurt and his place was taken by Goddard, one of the team's pitchers. In making the change the Bellinghamites became mixed in the batting order, and put McCullough up to bat instead of the new man. The umpire had no option but to call McCullough out, and he did so, although some of those in the grandstand, who were not wise to fine points of the game, thought that this was taking a mean advantage of guests. Goddard then came up and was hit by Surplice, getting a base as a result. Then Keene struck out and Hanson was nailed at first.

In the sixth Robertson made two beautiful throws to second, catching a man each time.

In their turn in this innings the Wonders again had their opponents going some, although they scored only one run as a result. Northcott reached first on a hit and McCuade was presented with four balls. Lang came up and languidly fanned the circumference for a while and sat down on the bench again. Surplice, however, was there with the goods, and as a result of his hit the bases were full. Blaney took his fourth strike out, but Plummer, who followed, landed a single and scored Northcott. While Wattlet was figuring out the side of the ball which he was going to hit, Bellingham caught McCuade's second and the Wonders went to field.

The remainder of the game was the best ball of the day, but there was no scoring.

The detailed score was as follows:

THE JUNIOR LEAGUE.

"A Player" writes to the sporting editor with reference to the junior series of baseball games. The writer says the report of the Bellingham team on Friday evening was written by one of the Oak Bays. It was not, and every word it contained is true. All kinds of despicable devices were resorted to during the contest to deprive the Oak Bays of a victory which was theirs by reason of the superiority of their play. The Oak Bay team is the youngest in years of any team in the so-called league, and an unsportsmanlike spirit has been engendered, from causes readily understood, which will probably have the effect of breaking up the league just as it resulted in the disintegration of the intermediate and senior grades. In view of what has occurred the Oak Bays would be justified in refusing to play any games over again, as apparently ordered by some irresponsible organization having but a dim conception of the true ethics of sport.

WEILER WINS DUPONT SHIELD.

The Victoria Gun Club held a shoot at Langford Plains yesterday at which there were about ten men present. Shooting took place for the Dupont picture and for the Dupont shield, which was yesterday finally won by Weiler who scored his third win and now holds the trophy. His score was 45 out of 50. McGarry made 42, Leavell 41 and Lenfesty 39.

For the Dupont picture, which is to be won by the highest three shot average of five shots, Leavell made 45 out of a possible 50 and Weiler got 42. For the shield there have been only four shoots, and the trophy had to be won three times, which has now been done by Weiler and once by Leavell. The fifth shoot will not take place.

The shooting, as shown by the scores, was good, and there was very little wind, but the sun was delightfully hot and bright, and a haze troubled the marksmen somewhat. The next shoot will take place at the end of the week.

MISS M. PITTS HOLDS THE CUP

VICTORIA TENNIS CLUB
CONCLUDES MATCHES

Schwengers Champion—Rome
and Jephson Win.

By superior play from a greater source of strokes Miss Marion Pitts on Saturday afternoon succeeded in defending her title to the Flumerfelt cup against Miss V. Pooley, who last week won the right to challenge her. Miss Pitts victory was won by two sets straight, and her games were secured by winning strokes at all stages of the game. Her placing was more accurate and her defence all over the court was her strongest means of attack. Miss Pooley played under decided difficulties, and was at a complete disadvantage, having on her hands three finals to complete in one day and within five and a half hours. Commencing at 11:30 on Saturday morning she engaged in a grueling contest in the final of the ladies' doubles which went to thirty-eight games, and was not concluded till 1 o'clock. With three hours' rest she was sent for the Flumerfelt cup contest with Miss M. Pitts at 4 p.m., and had a mixed double again at 5 p.m. The management of the tournament under the circumstances might well have arranged to set over some of the contests till to-day, or to have played one of them on Friday night, so that the challenger could go into the match at least as fresh as her opponent. Miss Marion Pitts' game on Saturday was well above anything she has played during the week, and her service, net play and back court work, stamped her a champion fit for the best of company. Handicapped by her short stature, she made good her loss by fleetness, and moved across the court at an astonishing pace. There was not the slightest doubt that she is the better player of the two ladies, and has at her command a greater variety of strokes, and is stronger, especially on her back hand work. The Flumerfelt cup will remain in her keeping another year. The score was 6-4, 6-2.

B. P. Schwengers is once more champion, and that he is more than champion among the players of Victoria is instanced by the handicap he fought against and the amount of work he performed through the week. With a handicap of over 40 against rec. 15, in many instances he had a long hill to climb, even with the easiest of wins in sight, while when up against a tough fight the length of the matches made his task even more arduous. On Friday night when with Pooley he was defeated in the gentlemen's doubles he appeared tired and nervous, but Saturday afternoon in his final with Jephson he showed all his old brilliance, and won the match easily. Jephson's game was not to top class, and he was outplayed at all points, and gained but one set. Score 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Rome and Drake won the men's doubles from W. and E. Todd by a score of 6-3, 6-4, 9-7. The game was not closely contested, and the pairs were unusually matched. This game, like the others, were played on No. 1 court, and the play of the winners frequently drew applause from the spectators. The Todd brothers by defeating Schwengers and Pooley on Friday climbed to the position of runners up for the championship men's double handicap, a position of no small credit, although they were beaten by Rome and Drake in the final play off.

After having played in two championship matches during the day, Miss Pooley again went on to contest the ladies' doubles final with McDougall against Miss G. Pitts at all points, and received a handicap of rec. 15. The game ended in a straight win by two sets for Miss Pooley and Keefe, 6-3, 6-4, and proved the easiest of her contests for the day. McDougall played with his usual vim and was out to win from the start to the finish. His net work was usual was good, and he and his partner won a well merited victory and outshone their opponents as indicated by the score.

The tournament thus brought to a close has been the most successful one in the club's history, and was rewarded with a first class attendance all through the week. The result appears to be that interest in tennis is on the upward move. The tournament has also shown that there are many new players that have taken the ranks of those of years previously who have fallen out this year, and that they are keeping up the reputation of the club to the usual standard.

The win of Misses Holmes and Leenholt is gratifying, inasmuch as the players are acquisitions to the club, and have proved themselves by winning the ladies' doubles, players of no mean order, and they will doubtless be seen in the open series which are to be commenced under the auspices of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club on the 27th inst.

It will be during the coming tournament that Miss Mable Hotchkiss, of California, will be seen in play here, and it is also expected that there will be players of note present from the Mainland and from the other Sound cities.

There is a decided movement from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to British Columbia, says C. A. Gass, who arrived in Victoria on Saturday after a successful business tour of Eastern cities. Mr. Gass is very enthusiastic over prospects of development on the Coast.

VICTORIA NINE MAY PLAY SIWASHES HERE

Monday Next Fixed for Match
—Websters to Meet Locals Saturday.

Arrangements are under way to bring Dugdale's Seattle league team, as Monday, July 20th. Mr. Dugdale was in Victoria on Saturday evening and promises, if transportation arrangements can be made, to bring his team over. The Seattle nine are scheduled to play at Aberdeen on the 21st and must be there without fail. Ordinarily the connections can be easily made by leaving here on the Princess Victoria for Seattle at 1 a. m., but Tuesday being the lay-over day for that steamer they can not make such connections. If possible some arrangement will be made so that the team can return to the sound on Monday night and if successful in arranging the matter, the game is assured.

The Websters, who play against the Victoria nine next Saturday, defeated the crack Yakima Tigers in two games played at Dugdale's Seattle park. In the first game they shut the Yakima team out 2 to 0. Schnitz allowed his opponents but three hits. In the second game the final score was 3 to 2, Agnew allowing but two hits.

Both games were splendid contests and plainly go to show the class of team the combination of the Nationals and Imperators now playing as the Websters are.

CITY COUNCIL DOINGS.

To put through the license reduction bill will require some fall hustling, meaning lots of corn will be tramped on. The cure is "Putnam's," the old reliable corn extractor that has been curing corns and warts for years. "Putnam's" never fails.

The chief feature, at the Empress theatre for the first half of this week is "Picturessque Holland." This film is a beautiful colored one and takes a person on a scenic trip through the rivers and canals. "A Gipsy's Revenge" shows how one of the truest of men, a noble and is caught and arrested. His mother by her charms induces the farmer's son to kill his father and thus bring ruin upon the family. "The Eviction" depicts a young man taking to drink and allowing his wife to suffer in want. Some very good comic scenes will also be shown. "Music Hath Charms," and "The Living Arm Chair." The two illustrated songs are "There's Another Picture in Mother's Frame," and "I'll Love Just the Same."

The funeral of the late Elizabeth Peters took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the Hanna chapel to St. Andrew's Roman Catholic cathedral. There was a large attendance of friends and many beautiful flowers were sent. Rev. Father Fieser officiated.

SUCCESSFUL TRIAL

OF C. P. R. TUG NANOOSE

Attains Speed of 12 Knots—Capt. Gunns to Command Her.

On Saturday afternoon the new steel tug Nanoose, built by the B. C. Marine Railway Company at a cost of over $70,000, was taken out for a short steam trial to Cape Race from Esquimalt, with Capt.
J. W. Troup, superintendent of the C. P.
R. coast service; W. McGowan, superintending engineer of the coast service; and J. E. Smith, representing the builders, on board.

The Nanoose developed an exceptionally high horse power and made a speed of 12 knots. She gave complete satisfaction to all aboard, and can be reckoned as one of the finest tugs on the Pacific Coast, of her class.

After the run the Nanoose was brought into the inner harbor and moored alongside the tug Car. She is being given to her, she will replace the tug Car in towing one of the C. P. R. barges between the Mainland and Ladysmith, the Car being adjusted for a short time. Capt. Gunns, at present on the Car, will command the Nanoose.

The new tug is 115 feet long, 24 feet beam, 14 feet deep, and has, approximately, a bunker capacity of 100 tons. She is built of steel and has a capacity for 50 horses aboard for service. It is a credit to the local firm of builders.

SAMPLE ORE BROUGHT DOWN ON THE TEES

Lawn Point Shipment Expected to Assay at $1 Per Ounce.

A ton of ore which is expected to assay at about $1 per ounce or $32,000 for the ton was brought to port by the steamship Tees, Capt. Townsend, which returned from the West Coast yesterday. The Tees brought four tons of ore from the Klaskanine Mining Company's property at Lawn Point, each ton being from a different working. One of them, as above stated, is exceptionally rich and there is a large amount of interest being evoked by its arrival. The Klaskanine company has had three men working on the claim since April and the arrival of this first profitable shipment is absolute verification of the first big find of the precious metal on Vancouver Island.

The Tees brought fifty passengers south but no freight. A. W. McCurdy, president of the Nootka Quarry Company, and Mr. O'Rourke, manager of the marble quarry, came down on the steamship together with ten workmen.
Major Newberry and a party of six returned from a trip of inspection to a number of properties in which they are interested on the coast. Among the other passengers were: A. McLeod, J. Hanson, J. Harvey, A. Lucken, Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, H. C. Brewster, George Mether, L. Frank, Miss O'Connor, H. E. Newton and Thomas Baird.
Haywood Brown, of New York, returned from Clayoquot with his younger brother. Mr. Brown was at Clay-oquot last spring in his capacity of expert mining engineer looking over the Kallapa mine. It is not yet known whether development work on the mine will be continued or not.

Up to the time the Tees left the Kyuquot whaling station the St. Lawrence had a season's catch of 167 whales to her credit.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniels and son, of this city, returned from the West Coast by the steamer Tees today. Mr. Daniels left Vancouver on the trip to break the news of the death of his son, who was drowned at North Bend a week ago. Mrs.
Daniels and her son had been making a summer stay at Sydney Inlet.

H. C. Brewster, M. P. P., arrived in the city from Clayoquot by the Tees. He will spend a few days here before returning to the summer. Mrs. Brewster and family will accompany him on his return trip.

HENRIETTE ON REEF YESTERDAY

FIFTY HORSES WERE FORCED OVERBOARD

Freighter Grounded Near Na-naimo, but Floated Practically Undamaged.

Bound from Vancouver to Prince Rupert with a cargo of freight for the G.
T. P. contractors, the McKenzie steamship Henriette, Capt. Butler, went ashore on a mud bank off Protection Island, in the vicinity of Nanaimo, half an hour after midnight on Sunday morning. In backing off the mud the stern of the freighter swung round and grounded on a submerged reef, where the Henriette lay until high tide last night, when, after some of her cargo had been jettisoned, she floated practically undamaged.

The Henriette coasted at Ladysmith and proceeded on Saturday night. She had loaded a fair cargo of supplies for the G. T. P. contractors, Foley, Welch and Stewart, and, in addition to railroad materials, had about 50 horses aboard for the same firm. The night was clear and bright, which leaves the cause of the mishap entirely to speculation at the present time. Twenty-five minutes before she grounded the Henriette saw a bank of mud off Protection Island. Her engines were immediately reversed, and she slowly freed herself from the obstruction only to run stern first on a reef which held her fast. Within a few hours of high water when the steamship struck, and as all efforts to release her during the night proved useless, it was decided to jettison some of her cargo overboard.

The horses were first to go overboard.
Near the stern of the vessel on the starboard side was an uncovered reef which would serve as a temporary refuge for the poor animals, and so they were driven overboard in the hope that most, if not all, would reach it. In spite of the care that was taken several of the horses, a special dispatch to the Times places the number at 25, were lost. All the others were badly cut by barbed wire and one of them was having broken a foreleg in getting clear of the steamship. Launches and small craft from Nanaimo and Newcastle put out and the horses were driven off the reef and towed, urged or floated by various ways and means to the latter town.

In view of the calmness of the weather and the coming of an exceptionally high tide last night it was not thought necessary to employ the services of the local salvage company. The Henriette has continued on her voyage.

FORTY DAYS IN ICE OFF NOME

STEAMSHIP OHIO IS AT LAST IN PORT

Longest Imprisonment in Flocks
Yet Recorded—Passengers Eat Freight.

Ending over one month's stay among the ice-floes of the Behring sea, during which time her passengers chafed under their enforced delay and vented their feelings in upbraiding Capt. Conrad, the steamship Ohio, of the White Star Company, safely reached Nome at 2:30 a. m. on Saturday. Owing to the defective condition of the vessel's arrival was not received here until Saturday night.

The passengers on the Ohio are all well and the steamship is only slightly damaged. Most of the ship's stores were exhausted during the last few days and several shipments of meat and general provisions were served out to the 540 hungry passengers aboard.
Capt. Conrad has received the appellation "Wolf of the Arctic" which, whether deserved or not, will cause his steamship's long incarceration in the ice, the longest on record, to live in marine history from Alaska to San Diego.

The report that the Ohio was safe at Dutch harbor, received some time ago and confirmed by the news that the Ohio ran short of coal and put into the Ounalaska port, 600 miles from Nome, for fuel. The Ohio got within thirty-five miles of Nome but Capt. Conrad, evidently anxious to obey orders, would not take any risk and drifted southward while smaller and faster vessels bucked their way through the floes to port.

The Ohio came to port conveyed by the United States revenue cutters Thetis and McCullough, the commanders of which received orders to pick her up and pilot her to Nome. As far as can be learned no public explanations of the Ohio's delay which has caused so many concerns interested and most of the passengers' money has been given.

London advices confirm the news of the withdrawal of the German steamship Europa, from Bremen for Norfolk, and the ship Bagdad, from Norfolk for Honolulu, from the overdue list as unaccountable. The Europa was poised as missing last week.

MORESBY ISLAND HAS FIRST TELEPHONE

Amur Brings News of Progress in Queen Charlotte Group.

For the first time in history the Queen
Charlotte Islands possess a telephone line.
The enterprising Japanese at the Ikeda-Aways mine have completed an installation which connects Ikeda bay with the hotel at Jedway, the total length of line being in the neighborhood of four miles, according to advices received by the steamship Amur.

The big bunkers, to hold 2,500 tons, are nearly completed at Ikeda Bay, and will be in operation before the end of August.
In the big dump at the mine there are nearly 1,000 tons of ore awaiting shipment. The Amur brought down 150 tons which were landed at Ladysmith.

Both north and south-bound the Amur had large crowds of passengers, all accommodated in the new township of Queen Charlotte is rapidly filling up, and it is stated that there are now 50 bona-fide settlers building homes in the locality with the intention of developing the fertile agricultural tracts that are attracting attention there.

AMERICAN COMPANY MEETS C. P. R. CUT

Twenty-five Cents to Seattle
by All Steamers
Now.

Replying to the C. P. R.'s cut of 25 cents each way on the Victoria and Seattle run, the Inland Navigation Company yesterday reduced the fare from 50 cents, single fare, to 25 cents.
The result of the cut on the Princess Victoria was the continuance of heavy Sunday traffic yesterday.

The Princess Victoria brought over 900 excursionists and the Chippewa 300, a total of 1,200 passengers being carried by the two steamships and many being turned away in Seattle. To-day the Princess Victoria brought over an even larger crowd of 551 passengers.
It is expected that the two companies will both make announcements within the next few days, the Inland Navigation Company regarding the proposed Victoria and Vancouver opposition steamer and the C. P. R. regarding the fare between Vancouver and Seattle, which is at present 35 cents. The fare for the reverse trip is only 21 cents. It is commonly believed that the Inland Navigation Company will cut the rate on this route to 50 cents each way during the week.

MARINE NOTES

An attempt to launch the car ferry barge Sidney No. 2, which is to be used for carrying cars from the Mainland to the island in connection with the Great Northern and the V. & S., was made at Sloan Bros' yard, Seattle, on Saturday.
Owing to the breaking of a cable the cradle on which the barge rested slipped from the ways and the Sidney No. 2 settled down, hard and fast for the time being, forty feet from the water.
Tugs endeavored to pull her off, but all efforts proved unavailing.

The Norwegian ship Euphrosyne, Capt. Olsen, is ready for sea at Vancouver, having completed her lumber cargo of 1,522,366 feet for Callao, Peru, has berthed at the Hastings' mill wharf, and is loading 1,000,000 feet of The American barkentine, Makewell Chill, The steamer ship Withington is being scraped and cleaned at Moodyville, and, upon completion of this work, will load 1,400,000 feet at Hastings for the United Kingdom.

A new gasoline passenger ferry, 45 feet long and with a beam of 11 feet, will probably be launched to-day at Vancouver. She will be known as the Port Mellon ferry, ranging from the place she is named after to Vancouver.
Capt. Anderson will command the new boat, which is expected to make the ferry run of 25 miles in 2 1/2 hours.

The Canadian-Australian liner
5-saloon, 42-second-class, and 15-sterage passengers for Vancouver, 25 saloon, 22-second-class, and 15-sterage passengers for overland points, and 2-saloon, 20-second and 20-sterage passengers for San Francisco and other Pacific ports, a total of 140 passengers.

On the steamship Spokane, which leaves on her third Alaska excursion next Friday will be a party of tourists taking a trip to the Yukon under the auspices of Raymond & Whitcomb, the Boston excursion promoters. The party will visit Victoria and embark here.

The steamship Transit, Capt. Danielson, is expected to reach Esquimalt tomorrow to undergo a survey. She was damaged in the ice making Nome, and left Valdez on the 7th to be repaired at Esquimalt.

On her way to Puget Sound, where she will be overhauled and sent out to her mooring on the Swiftsure bank, the new light-house designed by the United States government to assist in guarding the entrance to navigation will shortly leave New York. Another lightship for the Columbia river and three light-house tenders of the latest design will come around the Horn together, Capt.

A. Morris, N. S. N., being in command of the flotilla.

The schooner Clarine, Capt. Kosher, arriving at San Francisco on Saturday from the Arctic fishing grounds, reported that four of her fishermen were drowned off Johnson Island by the capsizing of their boat.

L. C. Smith, of Symons & Company, London, arrived in Vancouver last week and has taken over the business management of the Canadian-Mexican Pacific line of steamships.

The Pacific Coast steamship Government left San Francisco yesterday afternoon for this port, and is due to-morrow night. She has 150 tons of general freight to be discharged here.

The steamship Roma, from Vancouver for Port San Luis, was spoken off the Farallone Islands on July 8th and reported all well.

The C. P. R. steamship Princess Beatrice returned yesterday from Skagway and way ports. She brought down nearly 100 passengers.

The steamship Earl of Carrick passed off yesterday to coal at Ladysmith.
She is lumber laden from Portland for Australia.

The Chargeurs-Reunis liner Amiral Magon left Yokohama for this port on the 8th inst., and is due about the 13th.

The C. P. R. steamship Montclair left Hongkong on Saturday at 12.30 p.m. with 20 Chinese for this port.

Mrs. L. S. Johnson, Miss Frances Johnson and Miss Daley, of Burnside road, are spending the holidays with friends in Seattle.

M. A. Wyde, circulation manager of the Times, entered the Royal Jubilee hospital on Saturday for treatment.

STEAMBOAT FLYER HAS WONDERFUL RECORD

In 16 Years Has Travelled 1-250,000 Miles, Carrying 3,000,000 Passengers.

(Special Correspondence.)
Seattle, Wash., July 13.—Probably the most remarkable passenger steamboat in the world is the Flyer, plying the waters of Puget Sound between Seattle and Tacoma. Built in Portland, Ore., sixteen years ago, the Flyer has travelled more than a million and a quarter miles, and has carried more than 3-000,000 passengers. With unvarying precision, the Flyer has completed four trips daily between the two Puget Sound cities month in and month out, traveling eighty miles to a trip and 240 miles a day, with an average of 340 working days a year. This record, which has been kept up for such a length of time, has caused the Flyer to be the marvel of mariners all up and down the Pacific coast, and of those on the lakes and Atlantic seaboard, where her performance is known.

The million and a quarter miles that the Flyer has traveled is equivalent to five trips from the earth to the moon or fifty-one voyages around the world at its greatest circumference. The Flyer might have made 350 voyages from New York to Liverpool. During the time she has been in commission she has put in 5,293 working days up to July 1st of this year. The Flyer has ferried enough people between Seattle and Tacoma to populate the states of Delaware, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, Vermont, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, and has brought to her operators $1,000,000 in fares.

She has kept such perfect schedule time that it is an old saying that watches may be set by her appearance at either end of the run. Her course is so well known to her pilots that though it may be obscured by thick weather there is no loss of time backward and forward she goes between Seattle and Tacoma, making no stops en route and constantly plying up the miles. No accidents of consequence have marred the Flyer's remarkable career. After she was brought around from the Columbia river to Puget Sound she came near being destroyed by fire, and again
she collided with the steamship Stople, but considering the miles she has traveled the Flyer has had wonderfully few accidents.

The Flyer was built at Portland, Ore., and the fir cut during the winter months and well-picked with salt was used in her construction. By cutting the fir during the wet season builders find its life for ship building purposes. It is materially lengthened. The vessel is 170 feet long, has a beam of twenty-one feet and a hold depth of fifteen feet.
The Philadelphia engine manufacturers constructed her machinery in 1890, and the engine is an exact duplicate of that in J. P. Morgan's famous yacht Cornair, and has an indicated horse power of 1,100. Oil is used for fuel, with a daily consumption of sixty-one barrels. Her average speed is between eighteen and twenty miles an hour.

VANCOUVER EXCLUSIONISTS.

Deemed Unwise to Hold Meeting During Warm Months.

Vancouver, July 11.—To hold or not to hold a public meeting for the purpose of placing a candidate in the political field in the near future was the question that seemed to bother the minds of the members of the Asiatic Exclusion League at their regular meeting last evening, but after due deliberation and a great deal of discussion, it was deemed unwise to hold a meeting during the warm months, as it was thought that the attendance would only be sparse. The advisability of holding a convention for the placing of a political candidate at the coming election met with much more favor and it was decided to send certain forms to all the Trades Unionists in the city asking their support in the matter and whether or not they would support the league in the action that they have taken.

GOLD DISCOVERY AT CHILLIWACK RIVERBig Rush Commences Up Baker Trail—Seattle Man Made Strike.

Chilliwack, July 11.—What appears like the beginning of a second Klondike rush commenced on Saturday last and has continued steadily. The report of a rich gold find up about the head waters of the Chilliwack river and Skeg Creek has set men tumbling over themselves to be the first upon the ground and get the richest claims staked out for themselves.
The beginning of the rush commenced last week by a few stray prospectors wandering up the Baker Trail.
This excited no curiosity, but when parties of fourteen and seven and six, lately and supplied with the best full mining and camp equipment, began pushing through without offering any explanation, curiosity ran high and it leaked out that a find of gold had been made and they were after their share of it.

The same old story of a lost creek of rich placer fields were up in that country, the old timers having evidence of it from the samples brought out by the old Siwash Indians, or half-breed Indian, who had been secret or the location, and it was left for the Seattle man to find. The country hitherto had been considered almost inaccessible, and the story of its being ground sacred to the natives who were upon their rights, has kept the most venturesome away from exploring the mountain fastness. Since the find the fever has been getting into the veins of the Chilliwack boys, Harry Mercer and Frank Haley striking the train the other morning on the hyke for the new fields. This rush, it is continues, means much to the country, all the traffic back and forth will have to be made this way, the way in from the American side being out of the question on account of the high altitude of the mountains.

WORKMEN RETURN
FROM PRINCE RUPERTClaim They Cannot Get Employment and That Wages Are Too Low.

(Special Correspondence.)
Prince Rupert, July 9.—The Amur arrived from Victoria on Monday night with 30 passengers and considerable freight for Prince Rupert. She went north to the Nass, touching here southbound on Tuesday night and took the usual number of land-seekers and prospectors to Jedway, Skidegate, and other points on the islands.

The Boscowitz steamship Vado arrived from the south on Tuesday morning with 124 passengers and a big cargo for this port. She unloaded 145 tons of coal for the Pacific Stevedoring Co., and several hundred tons of supplies for Foley, Welch & Stewart, and local merchants.

Passengers by the Vado report dirty weather all the way from Alert Bay north, a perfect deluge of rain and cold as it would be in mid-winter.

The steamship Thorndis under charter to McKenzie Bros., arrived from the south on Tuesday en-route to Skegway, loaded down to the water line with the biggest cargo she has ever carried north. After unloading big shipments at both wharves, she got away north at 9 p. m.

When the Vado touched here Wednesday night southbound, over 100 men with their blankets and packs on their backs, scrambled on board in the drenching rain, so eager were they to get away from the wet weather, and so anxious to get back to Vancouver and Victoria from whence most of them had come but 24 hours before, that they could not wait for the gangplank to be run out, fearful lest she should get away without them.

Many of the men claimed they could not get work with the contractors, while others said the wages paid were altogether too low, and far below what they were reported to be paying. Some amongst them had come in from the construction camps where they had been.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence left on the evening train on the honeymoon which
will be of several months duration,
and will be spent in California and Honolulu, after which they will take up their residence in the Comox district.

DELEGATE FROM GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, B. C., July 11.—Charles Bunting, district president of the Western Federation of Miners has left for Denver, Col., where he will attend the annual convention of that body as a delegate from the Grand Forks union.

VANCOUVER BUILDING.

Vancouver, July 11.—Building operations in the city continue to show the advances characteristic of Vancouver's growing period. Last week the total of building permits issued reached a total of nearly $100,000, the exact sum falling only $400 short of this amount.

Chief among these was one issued to the Vancouver Construction Company for a concrete block on Westminister avenue to cost $25,000 and one for a brick veneer building on Seymour street to cost $16,000. Store and residential buildings complete the list.

IMMEDIATE START
ON WORK AT YMIR

New Finds at Mine Lead to Large Sum Being Appropriated.

Nelson, July 11.—It was good news to the mining men of Nelson when it was heard that good strikes of ore had been made earlier this spring upon the well known property, the Ymir mine.
It is better news that the manager has received instructions from London to go ahead with a scheme of development which will cost, when completed, that is to say at the beginning of the year to come, some $20,000.

The manager of the mine in reporting the new finds to his company and the development that had been made since early last month declared that in his opinion the time had arrived, so good was the showing, although the broken area had not as yet been cleared, when a proper system of development would be advantageous and profitable. This system of development and improvement he presented in great detail but it may be summarized thus:

On development of the property, $18,- 500; the repairs on a general repair $200; on repairs to the mill and water power, $4,000, leaving $2,500 for contingencies.
Soon after the plan has been fairly started the manager expects that he will be able to start milling and thus supply a part of the ore required from the sale of ore come across in the development work. At the end of the year set by himself at six months, he is confident that the mine will, in all probability, be in a position to yield regular profits.
Crushing at first will only be undertaken with about 30 stamps. This stage should be reached within the next two months. By the end of the year the mine should be milling at the capacity of 40 stamps falling daily.
When it is remembered that the Ymir mine, not so very long ago, was employing close on 300 men at the mine and mill combined, the importance of the work already accomplished and the importance of that now undertaken will be more fully understood. The Ymir mine has a large body of ore which failed and operations for the time being came to an end. It is understood that now the mine has been completely recovered. All that remains to be done is to put in the necessary development so that the recovered vein may be worked on a sufficiently large scale to produce profits. The starting into new life of this property will give a new impetus to the mining industry in the districts south of this city and will of course greatly benefit Nelson itself as the centre of distribution and as the point where much of the supplies and machinery wanted can be obtained.

SOMENOS WEDDING.

Mr. Jerrold de Launoy Laurence and Miss Mae Springett Are Married.

Duncan, July 11.—One of the fasti-
gious weddings of the season was
that which took place at the Anglican church, Somenos, at high noon on Wednesday last, when Mae, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Springett, of Somenos, was united in the bonds
of holy matrimony to Mr. Jerrold de Launoy Laurence by the Rev. J. A.
Leakey.

Miss Springett entered the church
which had been tastefully decorated
for the occasion, on the arm of her
The bride looked extremely sweet in
insertion with orange blossoms, and
carried in her hand a beautiful shower
bouquet as did also the bridesmaids,
the three sisters of the bride, who were attired in extremely dainty dresses of blue mousseline.

Mr. Blasco, of Comox, supported the groom.
After the ceremony at the church a large number of invited guests assembled at the residence of the bride's parents, Somenos lake, where the wedding breakfast was served, the usual
toasts disposed of, and congratulations
offered and received.
The bride was the recipient of numerous and costly wedding presents,
which betokened the popularity of the young couple amongst a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence left on the evening train on the honeymoon which
and will be spent in California and Honolulu, after which they will take
up their residence in the Comox district.

DELEGATE FROM GRAND FORKS.

Grand Forks, B. C., July 11.—Charles
Bunting, district president of the Western Federation of Miners has left for Denver, Col., where he will attend the annual convention of that body as a delegate from the Grand Forks union.

DETAILS OF WORK
TO BE DONE ON FRASERSum of $600,000 Will Cover Immediate Outlay—New Dredging Plant.

New Westminster, July 11.—The proposed improvements to the Fraser river are being brought to the public attention just now by the publication of the supplementary estimates, which contain several items for the river work, including one of $100,000.
The whole work will involve a very large expenditure as will be seen by the following extract from Engineer Kenner's report.

All that I at present feel justified in asking the government to consider in connection with the scheme submitted would be: 1st, the purchase of the dredge described, which being for use in British Columbia need not necessarily be considered as strictly applicable to the Fraser river, but as coming under the head of new dredging plant, $300,000; 2nd, construction of northern jetty, $200,000, making a total of $500,000. Taking this with the amounts already asked in connection with the Fraser river of $75,000, and $50,000 they represent a total of $600,000.
The $10,000 had, of course, been included in the original estimates and up before the local delegates went to Ottawa, and the $500,000, representing $300,000 for the new dredge and $200,000 for one of the proposed jetties in connection with the channel deepening scheme, the delegate was assured would be forthcoming in the supplementaries.
Of this half million, $100,000 or half that was promised, is about to be voted on the improvement account, and the department is still to be heard from regarding the $300,000 for dredging.

While the published estimates indicate amounts of $100,000, $15,000 and a few minor sums apportioned for the Fraser river work, Mr. Kennedy, M.P., has wired the mayor intimating appropriations of $30,000 and $50,000. Mr.
Louis Coote, chief engineer of the public works department, is also on the ground now making a special report upon the proposed work.

SOMENOS WEDDING.

Mr. Jerrold de Launoy Laurence and
Married.

Duncan, July 11.—One of the fasti-
gious weddings of the season was
that which took place at the Anglican church, Somenos, at high noon on Wednesday last, when Mae, eldest
daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Springett,
of Somenos, was united in the bonds
of holy matrimony to Mr. Jerrold de Launoy Laurence by the Rev. J. A.
Leakey.

Miss Springett entered the church
which had been tastefully decorated
for the occasion, on the arm of her father, who gave the bride away.
The bride looked extremely sweet in
a lovely gown of white organdy and
insertion with orange blossoms, and
carried in her hand a beautiful shower
bouquet as did also the bridesmaids,
the three sisters of the bride, who were
blue mousseline.

Mr. Blasco, of Comox, supported the
groom.
After the ceremony at the church a
large number of invited guests assembled at the residence of the bride's parents, Somenos lake, where the wedding breakfast was served, the usual
toasts disposed of, and congratulations
offered and received.
The bride was the recipient of numerous and costly wedding presents,
which betokened the popularity of the young couple amongst a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence left on the evening train on the honeymoon which
will be of several months duration,
and will be spent in California and Honolulu, after which they will take
up their residence in the Comox district.

MADELINE WINS THE JULIAN CUP RACE

Crowds Watch Young Ladies

at Helms Steer for Handsome Trophy.

Sailed under ideal weather conditions with a fine breeze, in fact, a little stiff for the smaller craft, the annual race at Vancouver for the Julian cup, with young ladies in charge of the white winged fliers, which was sailed over the Burrard Inlet course Saturday afternoon, was an unqualified success.

The start was made at 2:30 o'clock, the yachts getting off in the following order:

21-Foot Class.

2:30 p. m.—Tillicum, owner F. G. T.

Lucas, sailed by Miss Ruth McLean, with Miss Irene McLean on the head-sails.

Aloha, owner W. Templeton, sailed

by Miss Templeton.

Marietta, owner G. Willis, sailed by Miss Willis.

23-Foot Class.

2:35:58—Dione, owner R. Matland, sailed by Miss Matland.

Aithorne, owner W. Macdougall, sailed

by Mrs. J. S. Gail.

25-Foot Class.

2:35:10 p. m.—Madeline, owner W.

Thicke, sailed by Miss Violet Thicke.

22-Foot Class.

2:37 p. m.—Wideawake, owner E. B.

Deane, sailed by Miss Sophie Deane.

Canuck, owner R. Scarlett, sailed by Miss Scarlett.

The course was six miles, or twice around. The Tillicum led the first round, but on the second time the Madeline and Dione passed her, before rounding the second buoy, while the Aithorne also passed the Tillicum near the Brockton Point buoy. The Dione

and Aithorne engaged in a tugging match, the Aithorne coming out with flyings honors. The Madeline crossed the line first, having covered the course in one hour and three minutes.

The Aithorne crossed about two seconds ahead of the Dione, with the Tillicum next. The other yachts finished in the following order: Wideawake, Marietta,

TEN GOALS SCORED

AGAINST ONLY TWO

Victoria Does Not Win From

Maple Leafs—Rough Play

Marks Game.

Ten goals to two was the result of a ragged exhibition of lacrosse given between the Maple Leafs and Victoria twelve at Vancouver on Saturday.

The result was in favor of Maple Leaf, who secured the larger number of goals.

Rough play marked the game from start to finish and Roman and Battersley

in the third quarter got together in a little mix-up. McCune and Morris had a dispute of a similar nature in the first quarter and were ruled off the field. The Victoria team was weak both in defense and attack. McDevick, however, in goal, although ten shots got past him, succeeded in heading off several other hot ones that looked like scores.

Clegg, McLachlan and Dewar held down their positions in good shape but the balance of the team again showed their lack of combination. Individual haphazard play on the lacrosse field will never make a champion team.

Ronan for his tussle with Battersley got twenty minutes and Battersley got the rest of the tussle.

Victoria play the Maple Leaf twelve sets again on Saturday, when they will put out a stronger team than that which went over to Vancouver Saturday.

The summary was:

First quarter—E. Murray, 4 minutes;

Summer, 12; Pettigrew, 10.

Second quarter—B. Murray, 1 minute;

Summer, 5; Pettigrew, 4; E. Murray, 3.

Third quarter—Summer, 5 minutes;

P. Raney, 2; B. Raney, 14.

Fourth quarter—E. Murray, 3 minutes;

E. Murray, 2.

The line-up in order for Victoria followed—McDevick, Clegg, McLachlan, Dewar, Ockell, Wilson, Hancock, Morris, Pettigrew, Sedger, Battersley, Ronan.

For Vancouver—Raney, McArthur, Cartier, Ronan, McKeown, McQuail,

Palmer, W. Murray, B. Murray, E. Murray,

Summer, B. Raney, Lashko.

SHOOTING MEN

GETTING BUSY

B. C. RIFLE MATCHES

COMMENCE MONDAY

Locals to Hold Practices To-night, Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings.

Commencing a week from to-day on the magnificently situated rifle ranges at Clover point, provincial marksmen will hold the thirty-fifth annual prize meeting at which from the manner in which the entries are being received, there will be considerably over a hundred shooters engaged. Preparations for the coming meet are going forward and during the last three days of the present week the committee who will have charge of the arrangements will be busy preparing the camp for visitors. It is the intention to locate camp in the vicinity of Beacon Hill park among the groves of fir and pine lying between the bear pits and the water and adjacent to the range itself. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be spent in making the camp suitable and providing comforts for all the visiting marksmen who intend being here for the shoot. To-night to-morrow, and Wednesday nights local marksmen will avail themselves of their last opportunities to practice before the matches take place. At the last morning practice held on the range with a shifty wind blowing and a strong glaring front light, the following fine scores were made by ten of the shooters present, who averaged a score of 93 apiece:

Sergt. Carr..... 97

S. M. E. McDougall..... 96

Co. S. M. Caven..... 94

Truett, A. McDougall..... 93

Sergt. Richardson..... 92

Mr. Blizard..... 92

Gun. Boyce..... 92

Sergt. Lettice..... 92

Sergt. Brayshaw..... 91

Capt. Harris..... 90

Total..... 930

From the foregoing it will be seen that the local marksmen are fast getting into shape and will give a good account of themselves against the other members of the association during the first three days of next week. The matches are to be shot over distances up to 900 yards and in connection with this arrangement the mainland papers have been asking why the 1,000 yards range has been cut out and without waiting for a reply have answered that the reason is because the Clover Point range cannot accommodate the additional range. The Clover Point range will accommodate the 1,000 yard ranges without the slightest inconvenience and the reason that this distance is not down for the annual meeting is because the British Columbia Rifle Association decided to cut it out for this year.

The ranges will open at 8:30 on Monday next and close at 4:15. Two hundred, five hundred and six hundred yard matches will be shot on the Monday, two each at two hundred and six hundred yards and three at five hundred yards. The events will open with the extra series 500 yards and at 9 o'clock a council meeting will be held.

Nursery and Westminster matches over 500 yards will be commenced at 9:30.

After lunch at 12:30 practice shots over two hundred yards will take place and will be followed by the two Helmecken matches over 400 and 500 yards. At 4 p. m. another extra series over 400 yards, and the 600 yards Helmecken shoot will take place, ending at 6:15

p. m.

Rifle men are looking forward to the finest meeting of the whole thirty-five years and the arrangements that are proposed will be carried out in first class style and all comforts that a camp can provide will be arranged for the visitors.
